EVERGREEN

...we are now
beginning the work
that will secure
Evergreen's future
and realize its dreams.

From the President, The Evergreen State College

Dear Friends:

This fall, we marked the 10th anniversary of Evergreen's Longhouse. Hundreds of students, faculty, staff, tribal members, and friends of the college gathered to celebrate all that the building has meant. Looking back, it is clear that the Longhouse transformed the college and our relationship with the people we serve. The building's anniversary is a reminder of how much can be accomplished by a group of steadfast supporters motivated by a clear vision for the future.

Ten years from now, when we look back on the work we are doing today, we will recognize this as a positive turning point for Evergreen. Some of the groundwork is apparent on the physical campus in the renovation of the Daniel J. Evans Library Building, the re-design of the Evergreen Parkway, the systematic modernization of our science labs, and the construction of the Seminar II building.

Some of the groundwork occurs in our developing relationships with alumni and friends. In each of the past five years, gifts to our Annual Fund increased, providing a key component of our scholarship program. During the same time, the college's endowment more than doubled, helping to ensure that Evergreen prospers for years to come.

As we were preparing for the Longhouse anniversary, we received word that the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation would give Evergreen a $1 million gift to expand our fundraising efforts. The gift recognizes that our young college has come of age. With this gift, we are now beginning the work that will secure Evergreen's future and realize its dreams.

Without your support, we would not have come this far. With your support, we will build Evergreen's future.

Thank you.

Thomas L. Purce
President

From the Chair of the Board of Governors, The Evergreen State College Foundation

We believe in Evergreen.

That's the message in the generous gifts from 4,116 donors to The Evergreen State College Foundation in fiscal year 2005. Your strong and steadfast belief helps Evergreen in a number of important ways, from student scholarships and activity grants, to faculty development, to work by our public service centers and other organizations in the college.

Several gifts demonstrate the variety of support. The Murdock Foundation generously funded the acquisition of microscopy instrumentation. The Hearst Foundation gave a second gift to an endowment that supports Native American students in the Masters in Teaching program. Owen and Adele Reese, parents of an Evergreen alum, created an endowment for the Colin Reese Memorial Scholarship. Significant gifts were also provided for Evergreen's maritime programs, the Gateways program for incarcerated youth, library needs, and a new playing surface for the recreation pavilion.

One group that shares your belief in Evergreen is the Foundation's Board of Governors, who make their own financial gifts and help Evergreen's fundraising efforts in many important ways. Members of this board, all volunteers, include alumni, parents and friends of the college from across the country. Several members began their second terms this year, reflecting their deep passion for Evergreen. Of course, the board's activity would not be possible without the exceptional work of the college's staff and faculty, as well as the student employees in our offices and phonathon call center.

I am delighted to be part of this community of believers, and profoundly grateful for your continued support of Evergreen.

Janice King '80

Financial Highlights

Friends who recognize the value of Evergreen's unique kind of education continued to support the College in 2004-05. Support from you offers Evergreen students opportunities to learn and serve in new and exciting ways. With your support, we can continue offering a valuable liberal arts education to students who could not otherwise afford this opportunity, enabling them to become effective citizen-leaders in their communities, the Northwest and the world.

Laura Ritter

First recipient of the Sara Ann Bilezikian Fellowship for Masters in Environmental Studies

Laura Ritter, in her second year of the Masters in Environmental Studies program at Evergreen, says a new world has opened to her. “The MES at Evergreen is broad,” says Laura. “It allows you the opportunity to find your own specific interest.”

In Laura’s case, her interests are women’s studies, nature and Africa. Although she has always had a reverence for the outdoors, hiking and appreciating natural beauty, Laura says she had no background in science. The MES program is providing her that background.

Internships are adding to her knowledge. This winter Laura will work with the Washington Toxics Coalition, an advocacy group that recommends alternatives to the use of pesticides in agriculture and the use of PBDE’s in electronic equipment. She became interested in pesticides while studying with faculty member John Perkins last year.

After graduation, Laura intends to return to Africa where she worked as a Peace Corps volunteer. Her next visit will take her to West Africa where she plans to volunteer with a wildlife society.

Drs. John and Sophie Bilezikian created the fellowship to honor the memory of their daughter Sara. The endowed scholarship enables a promising young person an opportunity to study the integral relationships between the responsible preservation and conservation of the natural environment and the ultimate well-being of humanity.

“I feel honored to be the recipient of the Bilezikian Fellowship,” says Laura.

Owen & Adele Reese

Founders of the Colin Reese Memorial Endowment Scholarship

When Colin Reese celebrated his eighth birthday at Chuck E Cheese's, he was given the standard offer to take a handful of tokens from a bowl for free arcade games. Instead of claiming his birthday gift, Colin slapped the bowl into the air, scattering tokens to everyone in the building and taking none for himself. "He showed an early interest in radical economy," said his mother, Dr. Adele Reese.

Colin continued his studies in political economy at Evergreen and served as a teaching assistant before graduating in 2003. "He became a good teacher," said his father, Dr. Owen Reese. "He had a strong desire to help others and see their success."

Colin dreamed of becoming a policy analyst or college professor. He saw those paths as the best options in his search for a sustainable and more equitable economic system.

Although Colin didn't live to realize his dreams, his parents hope they can help other Evergreen students reach theirs. Owen and Adele Reese have created the Colin Reese Memorial Endowment Scholarship for Evergreen juniors or seniors who demonstrate academic interest and achievement in the study of political science, economics and/or political economy.

"Colin loved Evergreen," said his mother. "It accepted his unconventional ideas about economy. It was stimulating and a very formative experience."

The Reeses hope the scholarship will help educate others – Colin's life goal.

The Evergreen Foundation Activity Grants

In the fiscal year 2004–05, the Foundation awarded activity grants to help fund projects and activities undertaken by students, faculty and staff. Grants are awarded to enable recipients to accomplish something in their program that would not otherwise be possible. Funding for these grants came from Evergreen Annual Fund gifts raised during fiscal year 2003–04.

Fall Quarter 2004

Brendan Basham and Ernestine Kimbro
$175 for documentary: "Sociology of Photography"

Calculated Fiction Core Program—Steven Hendricks and Brian Walter
$300 for the production of an anthology
of student writing

Marcus Craven and Larry Geri
$185 to attend "Leadership in Sustainability"
conference

Marja Eloheimo and students
$300 for gifts of the First Plant People Project

Evergreen Chemistry Club, Brian Pointer and Dharshi Bopegedera
$216 for transportation to American Chemical Society
Career Day

Seamus Flynn, Betty Kutter and Andrew Brabban
$200 for development of bacteriophage cocktails as therapeutic agents to combat pseudomonas infections

Bron Heintz, Nick Ames, Armanda Fry,
Jason Anderson, Irene Buxly
and Rob Knapp
$100 for Cradle to Cradle home design competition

Eddie Hill and Gilda Sheppard
$250 for an examination of culture, race and genetic diversity

William Koopman and Larry Geri
$200 for survey and analyses of Hopi-Dineh
land dispute

Douglas Matje and Peter Pessiki
$175 for synthesis and analysis of usnic acid derivatives
and metal chelators

Sharif Moye and Jim Neitzel
$175 to investigate the chemistry
of 1-Hydroxytryptamines

Brett Pike and Martha Rosemeyer
$300 for molecular breeding for late blight resistance
in tomatoes

Brian Pointer and Dharshi Bopegedera
$300 for further specification of sulfur in the Monimolimnion of Soap Lake

Prism and Lucia Harrison
$250 for book project "The Eloquent Elephant"

Heather Rankin and Rebecca Sunderman
$175 for synthesis of bismuth vanadates

EVERGREEN

As state funding for Evergreen diminishes, the campus has increasing need to raise private support. It is the policy of The Evergreen State College Foundation Board of Governors to offset a portion of the costs of fundraising by assessing a gift fee of 5 percent, which is below the national average for not-for profit organizations of 15-20 percent.

The Evergreen State College Foundation is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, and gifts are tax deductible to the extent permitted by federal law.
